'92 graduate families warned of alcohol use

While congratulating the 240 Romulus High School 1992 graduates, Police Officer Rick Schwartz warned parents that they should use extreme care to make sure no alcohol is available to the teens at current graduation parties.

Schwartz, advisor to the Students Against Drunk Drivers group at the high school, wrote "I know the road getting to this point (graduation) has been as rough on you as the graduates."

Schwartz said he had a few words of advice on the upcoming parties concerning minors drinking and adults driving intoxicated.

Little needs to be said about minors consuming alcohol, he said, as the law is very simple. "You must be 21 years old to consume intoxicating beverages and you must not serve or allow anyone under the age of 21 to drink," he said.

Schwartz said if parents are hosting parties they should also monitor adults for over consumption. "We don't want these people driving home under the influence."

Violation of the minors drinking law is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine and jail time, he said. In addition, Schwartz warned, courts are handing down huge settlements to victims of drunk driving crashes and what insurance doesn't cover, will have to be paid personally.

"Just imagine how bad you will already feel because someone has been injured or killed as a result of your party. Then imagine a percentage of your paycheck being sent to the victim or victim's family for many years to come," Schwartz said.

Patterson, Hoffman triumph; schools of choice bid defeated

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus voters sent mixed signals to the Romulus Community School Board members Monday as they re-elected veteran Pat Patterson and elected challenger Debra Hoffman, who also serves as assistant financial director for the city.

The small voter turnout also rejected a referendum that would have had the school district pick up the travel expense for students electing to attend a different school within the district other than that assigned to them.

The vote totals in the five-way race were 679 for Hoffman, 435 for Patterson, 410 for incumbent Kenneth Berlinn, 379 for Pauline Calhoun and 235 for Donna Lindquist-Capron.

The referendum vote was Yes-381 votes, No-661 votes. The total number of voters was 1,228 out of about 13,500 eligible voters.

Local analysts feel that the election results provided more questions than answers initially, as this year was deemed the year of the anti-incumbent and in favor of women candidates.

But the fact that three women challenged two male incumbents may have split the anti-board vote enough to save Patterson's seat, some believe.

Most of the challengers hit the incumbent board members for the dismal Michigan Education Assessment Program scores this school year, the purchase of facsimile machines for all the board members and the heavy record of out-of-town trips by local school administrators, board members and staff during the campaign.

Hoffman, who was endorsed by Mayor Beverly McAnally

Debra Hoffman

and the entire City Council with the exception of Mayor pro tem Mary Ann Banks who is a school employee, soared above all other candidates on election day.

The 36-year-old finance assistant revealed shortly after the polls closed she didn't know why she won so handily, but said she was looking forward to working with the school board members.

After savoring her victory and getting some sleep, Hoffman said on Tuesday, "I'm still in a daze, but I'm looking forward to the challenge of serving on the board and expect to spend most of my time studying the board's financial matters initially, since that is my strength and that is what I campaigned the hardest on."

Hoffman said she hasn't decided if she will accept a fax machine for her home, one of the issues she hit hard at in her campaign. She claimed it was poor priority spending during a tough economic period for taxpayers.

She feels the intense work her supporters put into the campaign gave her the overall lead and helped her take 17 of the 20 school precincts.

For 46-year-old Patterson, who won his third term on the board, it was a bittersweet victory. "I'm sorry to see Ken lost his latest bid for the board," he said immediately after the totals were posted at the school district administrative office.

Patterson said, "Emotions are so high at this time, I'd rather not comment further at this time."

However on Tuesday morning, Patterson said he congratulated Hoffman on her victory and Berlinn on his 11 outstanding years on the board.

Patterson said he felt the school district is in the best position it has been in for the past 25 years in relation to educational direction and financial strength.

Berlinn exited the school administration offices shortly after it appeared he had lost his bid for re-election Monday night. Berlinn, 57, who reportedly was deeply disturbed over his loss, had served on the board since 1981, was unavailable for comment Tuesday.

Dr. William Bedell, superintendent of schools, echoed Patterson's comments saying Berlinn, "was a quiet hard-working guy, who was always active on the state and county level for our district."

Calhoun, 47, who said she flooded the Romulus school district with flyers twice (including the day before the election), felt the poor voter turnout dismayed her as much, if not more, than her personal loss.

Losing the election was regretful, she said Tuesday, but the limited voter turnout was, "Pathetic. What do we have to do to get the public interested in our schools?"

Calhoun said she hopes that Hoffman's election may make current board members more conscientious and may force them to straighten up their act.

Lindquist-Capron, 34, a new resident who formerly lived in Illinois, said she wasn't surprised by the outcome.

She knew Hoffman would be one of the winners, "because she had so many city workers out campaigning for her even on election day."

But Lindquist-Capron (who became known during the campaign as 'the lady with the double name') said she hopes to expand her name recognition before the next school board race.

She also chided Hoffman by saying "I hope she doesn't simply become a spokeswoman for Mayor Beverly McAnally. I hope also she knows a lot of people will be watching her on that very score."

Lindquist-Capron said she enjoyed meeting potential voters and "really learned a lot about Romulus politics."

Patriots miss petition drive goal

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Despite a vigorous campaign to place the splitting of Wayne County on the Aug. 4 ballot, circulators of the petitions have come up 50,000 signatures short.

Proponents of the plan to split the present county into Wayne and Erie counties, are continuing their petition drive until they reach the needed 205,000 signatures to submit the proposal to the Board of Canvassers.

Early this year, the downriver-based Patriots for Erie County, launched a petition drive to amend the state boundary act to allow 20 communities to form a new county.

During the past months, organizers of the drive have visited the city councils and township boards of each of the communities which would be affected by the split.

When petition organizer Leonard Mannausa spoke to the Belleville City Council, he noted that an ongoing and mounting frustration with Wayne County was the basis of the petition drive.

Mannausa said the commissioners elected to write the charter of the proposed new county will write a new page of Michigan history. In his speech, Mannausa accused Wayne County officials of viewing the southern half of the county as "a place to dump, to flush their toilets and to collect taxes."

The Erie County organizer slammed Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara for his proposal of new taxes, some of which the county executive would earmark for the construction of a new Tiger Stadium.

If the Patriots have their way, residents south of Van Born Road will reside in Erie County, while their neighbors to the north will remain in Wayne County. The proposed new county would include Romulus, Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township, Belleville, Huron Township and 15 other downriver communities, a total of 166,935 acres.

Mannausa has unofficially proposed that the Downriver Campus of Wayne County Community College be turned into the new seat of government for Erie County, and that the Downriver Campus be merged with the WCCC Western Campus in Van Buren Township to create "one great college out of two."

Mannausa charged that there has been inequities in state funding for community colleges. The Erie County organizer said WCCC receives $12 million annually from the state, while Monroe Community College receives only $2 million annually.

The campaign organizer noted that the proposed new county would have a population of 363,390 and a state equalized tax base of $5,427,153,690, or 21.34 percent of the current county. Mannausa noted that the new county could generate $58,124,816 in taxes based on 10.71 mills.

The Patriots for Erie County claim the following advantages if the county split is approved.

- Erie County would be self governed, instead of being represented by three of the 14 Wayne County commissioners.

- Erie County residents would receive a full return in services for their tax dollars.

- County services, such as courts, the county seat, records, jails, the morgue and sheriff would be moved closer to the people.

- Judges would be elected by the Erie County voters, and residents would not have to travel to Detroit for court dates.

In their statement, the Patriots claim that "closer, more centralized county services mean we will will save gas and reduce air pollution by avoiding the somewhat lengthy drive into Detroit to appear in court or conduct other county business. In addition, we will save money on parking and we won't have to worry about having our cars stolen while we're still in them or the threat of being mugged or even shot."

JUST MARRIED

Wilcox-Fox

Ann Renee Wilcox and Wayne D. Fox, both of Belleville, were married Dec. 28, 1991 in a double-ring ceremony at the Belleville United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Deborah VanLeuven Kerr officiated at the wedding ceremony and the music included the processional "Somewhere in Time" and "God is Watching Us" as the unity candle was lighted.

The bride wore a white satin sheath designed by Joelle with beaded Alencon lace, draped sweetheart neckline and bodice, a back bow and streamers with a detachable train.

Her gown was complemented by long white gloves and pearl and gold jewelry. Her veil was waist length with a pearl beaded band worn on her forehead.

The bride's bouquet consisted of red and white roses, green ivy and Christmas greens.

The matron of honor was Sharee Sulzmann of Flint, a sister of the bride and the bridesmaid was Renee Fox of Salt Lake City, a daughter of the groom.

The best man was Wally Vankerhoven of Chatham, Ontario, a friend of the groom and the groomsman was Jason Fox of Grand Junction, Colo. a son of the groom.

The reception was at the Renaissance Club of Detroit. A brunch was catered the following day at the couple's Belleville home.

The bride is the owner of A R Professional Services of Belleville and the groom is the director of marketing at Trans Jones Inc. of Romulus.

Ann Renee and Wayne Fox

The bride is the daughter of Robert and Sharon Wilcox of Grand Junction, Colo.

Father-child breakfast slated

A guest magician, ventriloquist and balloon sculptor will entertain at a Sunday father-child breakfast at the Community United Methodist Church, 11160 Olive St.

Norm Clothier, who also serves as a professor at Pontiac Bible College, will use various techniques to present his Christian message to the gathering.

While the event is technically billed as a Father-Son event, Pastor J.D. Landis said fathers may bring daughters or grandfathers may bring their grandchildren.

Tickets cost $2.50 for adults and a penny a pound for children under 12.

Reservations are available by phone at 941-0736.

Romulus college students graduate

Two Romulus residents, Anthony Militello and Maryjo Rose, will be awarded their graduation diplomas from Washtenaw Community College June 13.

Girl earns Catholic award

Jennifer L. Mientkiewicz of Romulus was awarded the Catholic Student Award for the 1992-93 academic school year at Madonna University in Livonia.

This award is for active Catholics, who possess a minimum grade of 3.0 at the university.

Airman completes basic training

Airman James L. Napiorkowski Jr., son of Romulus City Treasurer James L. and Angelika L. Napiorkowski, has graduated from the United States Air Force basic training program at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

He also earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is a 1990 graduate of Aquinas High School of Southgate.

Students will visit Cedar Point

Romulus Junior High School Student Council members and Barth Elementary School honor students are expected to be approved for visits to the amusement park at Cedar Point in Sandusky, Ohio on June 15.

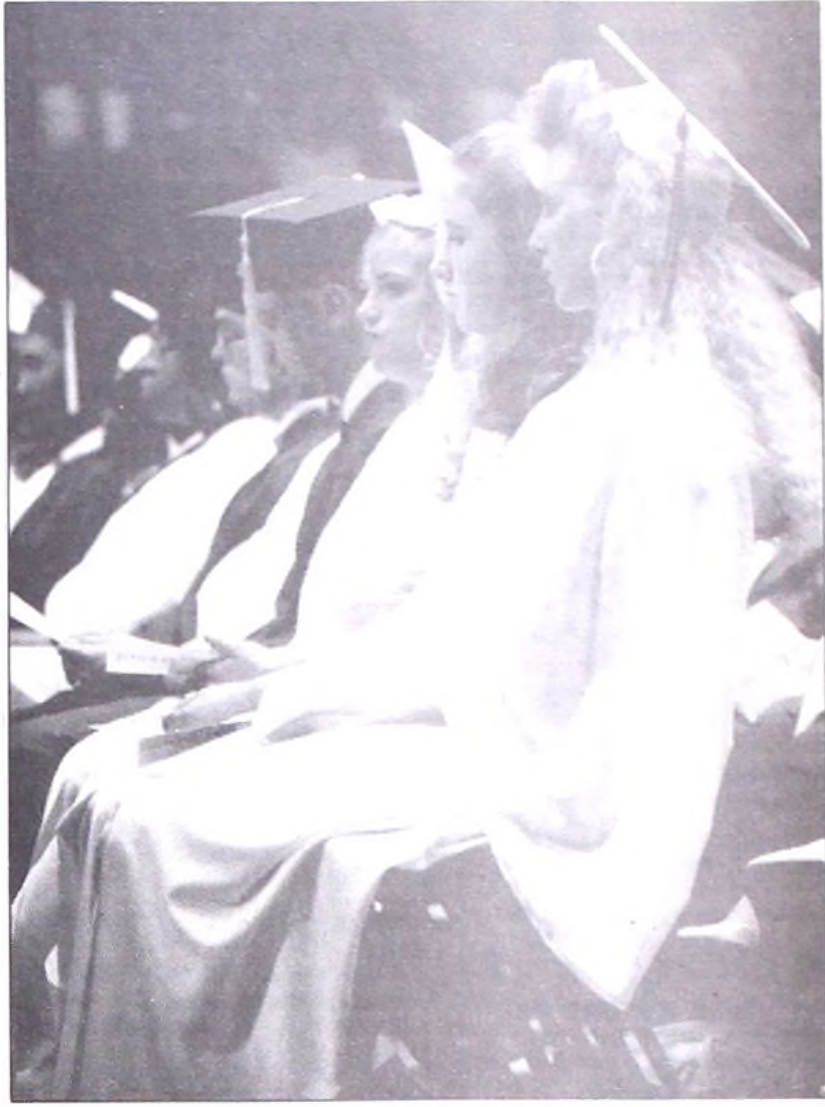

Vetta Lynn Webb, junior high student council advisor, has asked the members of the Romulus school board for permission for council members, office assistants, as well as room and library assistants to attend the amusement park trip.

The eligible Barth school students will include those in grades 4-6, who had been on the honor roll all four marking periods this year.

Teachers near contract OK

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A new teachers' contract calling for a series of raises as high as 23 percent during a four-year period has been tentatively agreed on in principle by both the teachers union and the school administration, according to Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell.

The so called "letter of agreement" has been signed by Bedell and George Trudell, the chief teacher union negotiator.

The pay hike calls for a 9-percent wage increase for the past 1991-92 year, a 6-percent increase for the 1992-93 year and another 6-percent wage hike for the 1993-94 year. An extra 2 percent could be added in the 1993-94 year, Bedell explained, if an incentive program can be activated to cut the 74 teacher layoff list, in effect hiring younger teachers and retiring older ones, or if an extended school year can be implemented to accommodate the needs created by enlarging the educational technology system in the district.

The pact now needs to be approved by the Romulus Community School Board members and the teachers themselves.

Action sped up recently on resolving the contract issue since, according to the negotiating plan, if the pact wasn't ratified by the end of this school year this week, it could not be completed until school resumes this fall.

Lack of a teachers contract also was a major issue in the current school board race.

Accused killer cleared locally

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Accused rapist and serial killer Leslie Allen Williams has been cleared from any involvement in the Feb. 25, 1991 killing of Northwest Airlines flight attendant Nancy J. Ludwig.

Romulus Detective Sgt. Dan Snyder said a blood test done recently revealed that Williams' blood type did not match with that of Ludwig's apparent killer.

Williams has admitted killing four women and raping 11 during a 20-month period but always has denied any involvement in Ludwig's death.

Williams, 38, who admits to raping females as young as 9, was arrested shortly after trying to kill a woman in an Oakland County cemetery.

Ludwig was not on her regular route, Romulus police said, when she was killed at the Hilton Airport Inn in February. She didn't know her assailant prior to the day she was murdered and according to Lt. Kenneth Kraus "was just in the wrong place at the wrong time."

Last Christmas, a profile of the murder suspect was released claiming that he was possibly retarded, working a menial job and living with his family, possibly a mother, aunt or grandmother, in the Metropolitan Detroit area. The victim reportedly was raped after she was killed by her assailant, who slashed her throat with a sharp object, probably a knife, police said.

Her husband, Arthur, of Minnetonka, Minn., has kept a high profile in the case, constantly seeking to increase media coverage on the probe hoping it may lead to exposing the actual killer.

A $50,000 reward remains active for information leading to the arrest and conviction of her killer.

Individuals with any information on the murder are urged to contact Romulus police at 942-6855.

Salvation Army seeks city land

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The Salvation Army Adult Rehabilitation Center of Romulus, which is being forced to move from its Goddard Road site by the Metro Airport expansion, is seeking to buy a city-owned 15-acre parcel of land located at Fourth Street and Van Born Road.

Representatives of the Salvation Army attended a City Council study session Tuesday night to discuss tentative plans for the site with members of the city planning commission.

Dennis Oakes, city community development director, said this meeting was the first of a many-step process if the Salvation Army is to switch its multi-unit facilities to this site.

The current site contains an adult rehabilitation unit that houses up to 150 men at a time, administrative offices for the staff and a large room for religious services for the men.

Also located there is one of the Salvation Army thrift stores and a factory where employees separate all donations from the public, clothing, furniture, etc., later sold at various thrift stores in western Wayne County.

Oakes is asking the council to divide the issue into two steps: first a decision to sell the property to the Salvation Army contingent upon subsequent approval of use and site plans and then to have the planning commission notify area property owners of a public hearing on the project. After the hearing, planning commission members would make a recommendation to the council for final action regarding the use of the site.

Police given bullet proof vests

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Four state-of-the-art bullet resistant vests have been donated to the Romulus Police Department for use by newly hired police officers, Police Lt. R.C. Brown revealed today.

The vests were presented free of charge to the local police by the Michigan Association of Police (MAP) as part of its SafeStart program.

MAP Director Fred Timpner said 400 vests have been given to police graduates outside the city of Detroit since 1990.

"The ultimate goal is to provide every new officer in Michigan with this kind of protection," Timpner said. The cost is picked up by the private sector and there is no expense to either the recipients or their departments.

Brown revealed that more than two thirds of the Romulus Police Department currently wear such protective devices.

"When I worked the streets,

I never was without mine," he said. Family members remain extremely concerned when relatives join the police department. That was quite evident even when Brown joined the department, he said. "My mother bought me one when I first joined the force." That device was rather crude compared to current models, he said. "They have improved in quality dramatically since that time."

While no Romulus police officer reportedly owes his life to a vest at this time, Brown said, wearing such a device is considered sound policy.

Nationwide many police lives have been saved in recent years because of such vests, and 126 Michigan police departments have requested vest donations.

Former Wayne County blacksmith is mourned

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

As friends and family mourned the loss of Norman Wells recently, many associates and friends noted that his death may also have marked the end of an era in Wayne County.

Mr. Wells was one of the last full-time blacksmiths employed by the county and he had learned his trade at the hand of a man who had served as the blacksmith for Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus.

When Wayne County corraled horses from the roadwork force years before, Mr. Wells, formerly of Romulus, was called upon to use his talents on many of the Wayne County Road Department vehicles, where he used his skills for more than 30 years.

George Winchell, retired superintendent of the road department, remembered life on the road with Mr. Wells. They began as "truck buddies" serving for many years out of the same service vehicle.

Then Winchell, who now is retired and lives in Taylor, became Mr. Wells' supervisor.

"He was not only a good friend on the job," Winchell said, "he was my best employee...always on time and very reliable."

Winchell said, "Wells was responsible for sharpening all the points on air hammers as well as making a lot of parts for the county's salt spreaders."

He also created a number of chisels and punches, Winchell recalled.

Mr. Wells, who died recently in his Florida home, lived in a rural area between Romulus and Wayne, his widow, Louise, stated. She remembered him traveling about various Wayne County locations during the snowstorms, helping the work crews fix their stalled snow removing equipment.

The couple's best friends at that time were Vi and Robert Stanton of Westland.

Vi Stanton said they spent many weekends vacationing together at Wampers Lake in the Irish Hills area of Michigan.

"We joined together to celebrate many birthdays and anniversaries through the years," Stanton said. "Our husbands shared war stories," she smiled, "while Louise and I would discuss memories of our teaching years. They also became the second parents of our daughter, Corie Root."

"They were devout Catholics," Stanton said, "while we were rather inactive Protestants. I still remember the time when Norm borrowed my husband's jacket to go to church. For years, my husband joked he couldn't wear his jacket any more because it had gone to church."

The women are both widows, and keep in touch through the mail and phone.

Students selected for European tour

Two students from the Wayne-Westland School District have been selected to participate in a European tour with the Blue Lakes' Musical Ambassadors.

Wayne Memorial High students William Sampson and Erica Schmitt will participate in the 23rd annual International Exchange program, according to Gretchen Stansell, representative of Blue Lake.

"Since 1970, more than 15,000 American, European and Asian musicians have participated in the international goodwill and cultural exchange program," Stansell said. "About 275 talented high school musicians from Michigan and eight other states will visit Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Sweden for one month during June and July."

Sampson is a member of the trombone section of the band. Schmitt is a member of the violin section of the orchestra.

The students will participate in four performing groups: a 90-member symphony orchestra, a 97-piece symphonic band, a 20-member jazz band and a 78-voice choral ensemble.

The band and choral ensemble will leave for Europe June 21 and the jazz band on June 23. Before leaving for Europe, the symphony orchestra will tour Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio from June 21 to July 1.

Each group will participate in four-day midwest mini-tours on their return from Europe as well as a homecoming concert in Blue Lake Steward Shell.

The 275 participants in Blue Lake's 1992 International Exchange were selected from more than 1,000 students who were auditioned while attending Blue Lake last summer.

Rehearsals began last fall. Dr. George West, professor of jazz and music theory at James Madison University in Virginia, will conduct the jazz band for the ninth time.

While on tour, Blue Lake musical ambassadors stay with host families, giving them a first-hand view of the life style and culture of the countries they visit.

Local office is site of protest

United States Congressional candidate Burl Adkins and his supporters staged a protest outside of Congressman William D. Ford's office last Friday.

Adkins claims that Ford, "unjustifiably abused his franking privileges by using the taxpayer's money to mail material out of his current district."

Currently Ford represents the 15th Congressional District, but the re-districting will have him representing residents in the new 13th Congressional District if he is re-elected in November.

Northville will be included in the new 13th District, but it isn't part of the current 15th District. Adkins is upset that Ford is sending mail to residents who live in Northville.

"I am incensed, but not surprised that Bill Ford would foolishly waste our hard-earned tax dollars to promote himself," Adkins said. "This institutionalized corruption must stop now. We are demanding an audit of his Congressional franking expenditures and that he personally pay for every piece of mail that was sent out of his district."

Neither Ford or any members of his staff were aware of the demonstration, Ford said Tuesday afternoon.

"We have scanned our correspondence files during the time frame for all three times Mr. Adkins has opposed me in an election, and we have found no record of him corresponding with us on this subject," Ford said. "If he wants to contact me he needs a pencil and paper, not a demonstration."

During the demonstration Adkins referred to the mailing as unethical.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)-Communications are extremely important this month. Don't push the issue. Wait until July. Emotions run high. Children will be more receptive to what you are asking. Take care of your health. Don't put off that doctor's appointment. Lucky numbers are 4, 7 and 9.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)-You should be feeling much better by the 14th. Love is in the air. An unexpected call from a family member will bring a smile to your face. This is an important time for finances. Make plans for that major purchase in August. Lucky numbers are 0, 3 and 6.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)-This is going to be the best career move you ever make. There are too many chiefs. You'll understand by the seventh. Legal issues come into focus. Money will start to stabilize by the middle of the month. It's a better time for family talks. Lucky numbers are 1, 2 and 5.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)-Every picture tells a story. The next five weeks could be the most emotional time of 1992 for you. You are on the verge of your hopes and dreams. Lucky you. What was lost is found. Talk about summer travel plans will be exciting. Lucky numbers are 0, 1 and 9.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)-Watch what you say and who you say it to. This month you could have a bigger month than usual. You will be meeting more than one available member of the opposite sex by the 17th. An unexpected trip will be festive. This is a time to meet new friends. Lucky numbers are 2, 5 and 7.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)-A greater year is about to unfold before your very eyes. This is an excellent month for career advancement. Combining business with pleasure is possible. You may have more than one person who is attracted to you.

Lucky numbers are 2, 4 and 7.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)-Love will be wild and wonderful by the third week of the month. Travel this month will turn out to be a vacation that you'll never forget. Work will increase by the eighth. Stand your ground. Don't forget to love you. Lucky numbers are 0, 5 and 7.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)-Major purchases and/or sales will take place by the 21st. Love is stable. This is a powerful time for changing the way you think and feel on matters from the past. A major move could take place by the fourth week. Lucky numbers are 3, 6 and 7.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)-You could be attending a wedding by month's end. This will be the beginning of a very social time period. Friends pull through for you. Expect vast accomplishments around the 13th. This is a wonderful time for money. Lucky numbers are 4, 7 and 8.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)-You will be seeing people from the past that will make the month zestful. Exchange phone numbers and keep in touch with them. You'll be glad you did. Your health looks marvelous. Take a vacation from some heavy responsibilities. Lucky numbers are 6, 7 and 9.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)-You'll be spending more time with children this month. Fortunately you are going through a better health cycle. You'll need the extra energy. Someone you admire is going to be more open about their feelings. Lucky numbers are 1, 3 and 6.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)-Business matters will start to improve by the sixth. This is the beginning of many good opportunities in career and love. Take some time and have some fun though. This is the beginning of a summer of dreams come true. Lucky numbers are 1, 6 and 7.

Auto insurance debate continues in Legislature

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

While the state legislature continues its tug-of-war regarding auto insurance reform, the largest auto insurance company in the state has threatened to file election petitions to allow the voters to decide an alleged 20-percent rollback in the rates. AAA has been circulating petitions, and company officials say they have more than enough signatures, to place the initiative on the Nov. 3 ballot.

In April, Gov. John Engler vetoed a no-fault insurance plan proposed by the legislators, calling it a farce because it did not roll back the rates far enough and also their was no cap on benefits, he said.

In the wake of the governor's veto, AAA launched the petition drive. The AAA proposal would cut back present rates on an average of 20 percent from those that were on effect on Nov. 1, 1992.

However, critics of the proposal stress that the rollback would not be a certainty, and in the interim, the insurance company would have adequate time to raise their rates to cover the amount of the cut.

State senator William Faust (D-Westland) is suspicious of the AAA initiative.

"While, in my judgment, the initiative does have some merit, in actuality it is similar to all other proposals which the insurance industry has made before the Legislature," Faust stated. "In a nut shell, it requires consumers to make most of the sacrifices so that the premiums may be reduced. The insurance industry's contributions to rate reductions is, at best, minimal."

"AAA and the rest of the industry do not want to assume any of the burden in making Michigan's auto insurance system more affordable to consumers."

According to Faust, the AAA rollback would not be a certainty. The insurance companies would be able to petition the insurance commissioner for a waiver of the rollback.

"Furthermore, the amount of the rollback any one person receives would also be dependent on their willingness to give up substantial medical and legal rights which they receive under the current no-fault law," Faust said.

The AAA proposal and other insurance industry proposals do not guarantee any savings, Faust warned.

Not only are the insurance companies throwing up a smoke screen with their proposals, they are also fighting comprehensive legislation to reform the present no-fault law.

Faust said an example of the deception is the recent industry criticism of provisions in a bill approved by the legislature with a bipartisan majority and vetoed by the governor.

"This bill required them to report claims, medical costs and fraud statistics to the insurance bureau. The bureau can't collect this information now because the insurers either do not have the data or they refuse to disclose it. Even though these statistics are necessary for developing effective ways of containing costs in these areas, the insurance industry continues to oppose efforts to make them participate in this cost savings process," Faust added.

In the meantime, both the House and the Senate delegates have ironed out - but have not put the finishing touches - to their versions of auto insurance reform packages. The senate plan would cut back the rates but cap medical benefits at $250,000 that an injured victim may receive from the insurance company; the Democrats would allow victims to sue for damages; the Senate plan would eliminate lawsuits and impose a limit upon payments to physicians and hospitals.

Gov. Engler reported supports the senate version of the auto insurance reform package.

Faust said: "Although the constitution guarantees the right to petition their government and that guarantee includes AAA, residents should be fully aware of the contents of the petition. Any time any industry, be it General Motors or AAA or any other firm, wants to write a specific law, one must suspect the law is self-serving," Faust concluded.

New legislation could help area eliminate blight

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

During the last five months, five bodies of women, reportedly prostitutes, have been discovered in abandoned structures in Highland Park. In Inkster, at least three women were killed inside or near abandoned houses during the last two years. The victims were among eight prostitutes who have been killed by an individual police believe may be a serial rapist.

Criminals use abandoned houses to conceal their deadly work, wheel and deal in drugs, police say. Drug users take over abandoned houses to shoot up drugs, they add. And, abandoned houses also are lures for adventurous children, whose curiosities have led some to serious injuries and sometimes death. Over the years, city and township have expressed frustration in their inability to eliminate the dangerous structures and eyesores because of lengthy legal procedures and the lack of money. However, legislation was approved by the state Senate

This legislation would speed up the removal of abandoned and hazardous property from local communities.

- William Faust

last week and will go before the House of Representatives next week to help local townships and municipalities to seize abandoned and dangerous property for demolition without the red tape usually associated with the process. Senate Bill 139 was approved and sent to the House for action by its members. "This legislation would speed up the removal of abandoned and hazardous property from local communities," said state senator William Faust (D-Westland). "If a building is found dangerous, a notice is served of a hearing on the structure at least 10 days in advance of the hearing." The bill defines "dangerous buildings" with structural damage that do not meet the minimum requirements of the Michigan Housing Act or local building codes, Faust said. The bill also defines dangerous buildings as ones that have been unoccupied for 180 days and are not listed with a real estate broker.

Roadhouse gets new name, menu

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

A new name will be headlining the front of the old Wayne Roadhouse on Michigan Avenue. Rosa Carlucci's Mexican-Italian Cantina and Barbeque Pit owner Fred Ferguson will soon be offering western Wayne County residents a unique menu with affordable prices. Ferguson has created a marriage between Mexican and Italian food. He intends to construct a food bar in the middle of the restaurant, change the colors inside and outside and enlarge the bar area. "I'm changing the name so there is no confusion about what this restaurant has to offer," Ferguson said. "The lounge area of the restaurant has never been promoted, but I'm going to change that. I'm thinking of having entertainment, possibly piano music, Friday and Saturday nights." This is the first time a major renovation has been made to the establishment in eight years, according to Ferguson.

We will be introducing two new soups which include the fish chowder and Rosa's black bean soup.

- Fred Ferguson

"The colors of the building inside and outside will be changing to greens and reds," Ferguson said. "I intend to make this place a little more casual and a lot more fun." The menu is getting a complete overhaul. The popular bread and clam chowder, however, will continue to be offered. "The salad bar will have a variety of Mexican and Italian food," Ferguson said. "Prices for the majority of the meals will range between $5 and $7." Under the Italian section of the menu, Rosa Carlucci's will feature homemade spaghetti and fettuccine. The Mexican cuisine will have such specialties as enchiladas and nachos. "We've expanded the pizza section of the menu as well as keeping the favorite pasta dishes," Ferguson said. "Customers will be able to buy the salad bar alone or purchase it on the side with their meal." Besides Mexican and Italian, a variety of chicken, steak and barbeque dishes will also be offered.

"We will be introducing two new soups which include the fish chowder and Rosa's black bean soup," Ferguson said. Desserts are not forgotten at Rosa Carlucci's. Fried ice cream and cappuccino pie are among the intended temptations. Ferguson is designing a meeting room which will accommodate up to 50 customers at one time. Business hours will also be extended. "We're going to reopen on Sundays so we will be open seven days a week," Ferguson said. Rosa Carlucci's will be open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and noon to 9 p.m. on Sundays. All the improvements are expected to be completed by mid June, according to Ferguson. Renovations will be conducted during normal business hours.

Glenn wins regional, reaches state semi-finals

Rockets jolt top state team

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It was probably one of, if not the greatest baseball victory in the history of John Glenn High School and Norm Hoenes' 26-year coaching.

Glenn, behind the superb pitching of junior righthander Aaron Scheffer and a two-run, fifth-inning blast by John Ward, stunned Redford Catholic Central, 5-4, to oust the top-ranked state Class A team in the first-round of the regional playoffs staged Saturday at Temperance-Bedford.

The victory - the 13th out of the last 14 games for the Rockets - qualified the Westland team for the regional championship. They played and defeated Lincoln Park, 2-1, to win the regional crown and advance to the state semifinals in Battle Creek set for Friday.

Redford CC, nee Detroit CC, knocked out a strong John Glenn in the 1987 district series and Hoenes' Rockets had waited a "long time for the rematch."

"Obviously, this was a big win for us," Hoenes said afterward. "They (RCC) came into this (game) as the No. 1 team, and our kids wanted to prove something. They definitely did that."

But the Westland team kept their fans in suspense right down to the final out. The Rockets started off as if they were going to blast the Shamrocks into Ohio. They jumped on the CC starter Tom Kapla for three runs in the first inning.

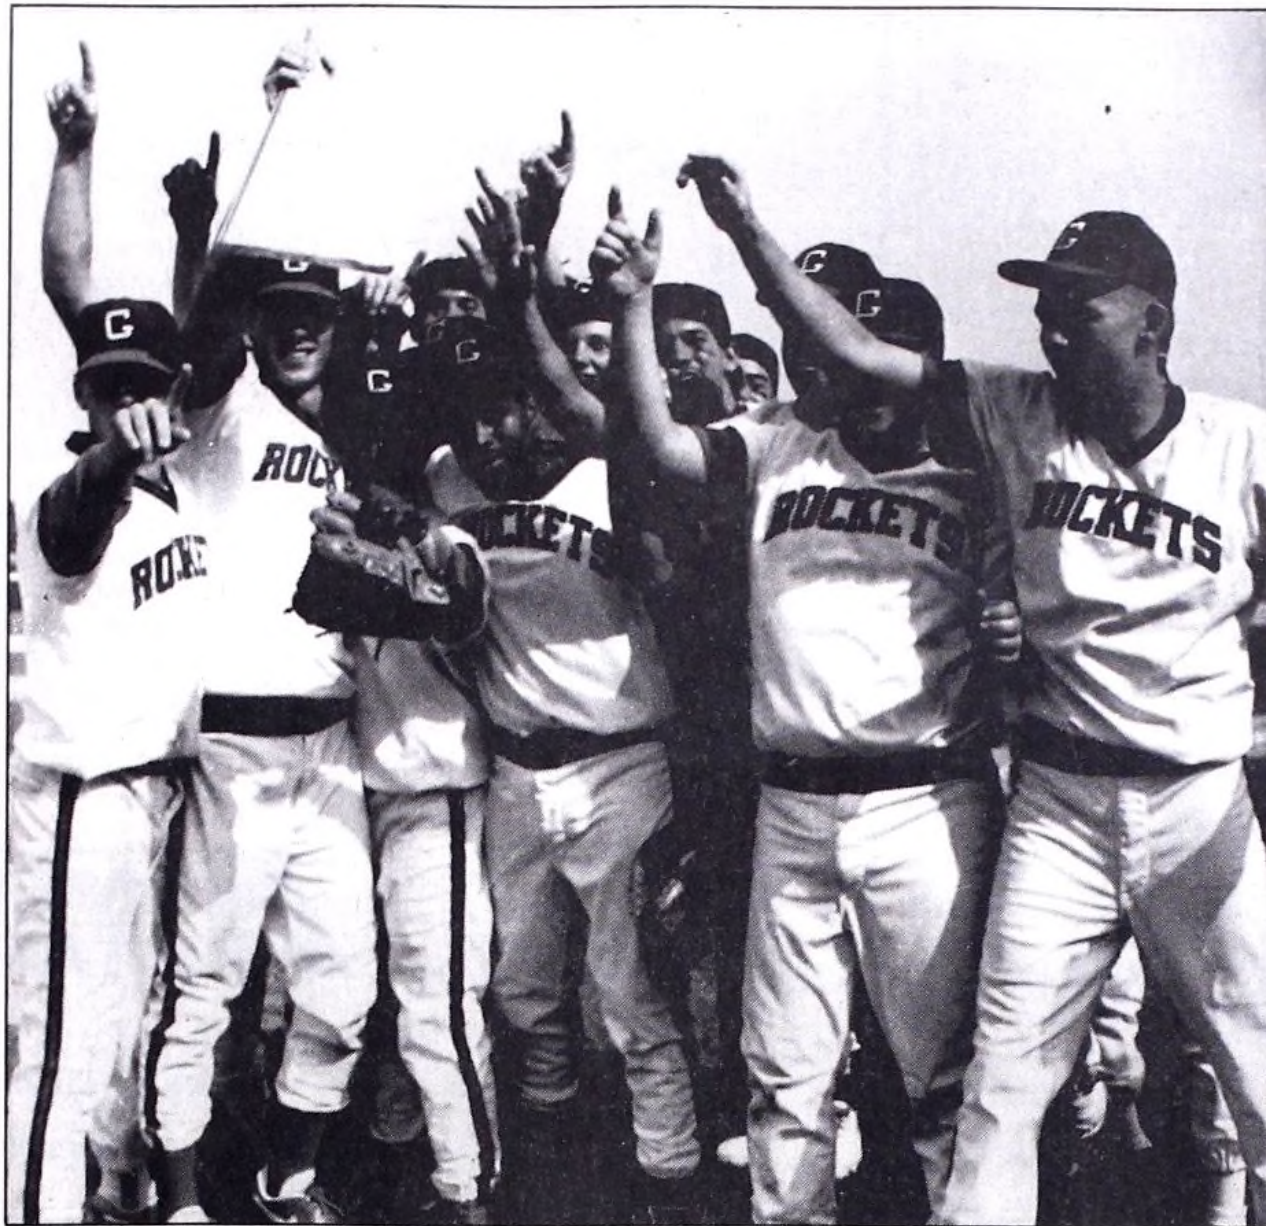

After one out, Kapla issued walks to Scheffer, Ward and Tayo Farley, loading the bases. Kapla then gave up an infield single to Jamie Murphy, with Scheffer scoring the first run of the game. Designated hitter Mike Bint came through with a two-run single to put the Rockets up early, 3-0.

Scheffer then shut down the CC hitting machine for four innings, but in the top of the fifth, Glenn got to and routed Kapla from the mound as they scored two decisive runs.

The CC pitcher gave up a base on balls to Scheffer. That brought John Ward to the plate.

Ward drilled a two-run blast straight away into left for his third homer of the 1992 campaign and that should have sounded the knell for Catholic Central. The Shamrocks apparently weren't ready to toss in the towel.

No way. The state power came right back in the bottom of the fifth with a four-run rally that stunned the high-flying Rockets. Scheffer apparently Playing two of their toughest games of the 1992 season, Westland John Glenn managed to survive and win a second Class A regional baseball championship in 25 years at the expense of No. 1 state-ranked Redford Catholic Central and Lincoln Park. In the photo above, the Rockets show off the regional plaque, signifying their victory at the regional. John Ward (with plaque) and his teammates take a second to pose for the photographer before getting down to the serious business of preparing for the semis. "hit a wall". And the question remained: "Would he recover in time?"

The lanky Glenn right-hander struck out the first man to face him, then got into trouble. He gave up a single, then proceeded to hit two batters to load the bases.

"I went out there and talked to him," said Hoenes. "It looked as if he was hurrying his pitches."

Before Glenn got the final out, the Shamrocks had collected four runs and were back in the game.

In the sixth, Scheffer settled down and retired the side in order. However, in the bottom of the seventh the Shamrocks came up with their final scare.

Kapla put down an excellent bunt to reach first. He then stole second. With the potential tying run on second, Scheffer got tough. He snapped back by getting the next two batters on harmless pop-ups.

The third and final out, however, produced some suspenseful seconds. Scheffer gave up what appeared to be an easy out - a pop fly that held up high and drifted into shallow right field.

Glenn infielders apparently waited for the outfielders to make their move. Nobody went for the ball, that is, until short stop Derek Besco decided to take matters into his own hand. He raced from short to right just in time to grab the ball for the final out.

"For a moment there I was paralyzed," Hoenes said. "There was the tying run on second and none of our kids were moving toward the ball. When Derek caught it, believe me there was one great sigh of relief."

Kirkey's 2-hitter beats Lincoln Park

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Westland John Glenn cashed in on Chris Kirkey's three-hit pitching performance and an outstanding effort on defense to turn back Lincoln Park, 2-1, Saturday at Temperance-Bedford and capture their second Class A regional baseball championship in 25 years.

Kirkey struck out four and walked three for his sixth consecutive victories. The senior righthander is undefeated in the 1992 campaign.

The game pitted two of the most respected high school coaches in the state - Westland John Glenn Norm Hoenes and Tom Nolan of Lincoln Park. Each has more than a quarter of a century coaching experience.

"We're met a lot in (American) Legion ball over the years," Hoenes noted. "We have a lot of respect for coach Nolan. It was a good game to watch if you were a spectator - and we're very happy to come away with this victory."

Glenn drew first blood.

The Rockets got on the scoreboard in the first inning as Greg Tamas lead off with a single and moved to second when losing pitcher Dave Muntgan walked Aaron Scheffer.

Then, John Ward managed to slice a slow dribbler to short for an infield single, with Tamas stopping at third.

Tamas scored on Derek Besco's base hit. With bases loaded and no outs, the Rockets missed an opportunity to increase their margin when Farley whiffed, Scheffer was erased on a fielder's choice at the plate and Martin Potter popped up for the third out.

"We should have blown the game open in that first inning," Hoenes said. "But we didn't."

The Rockets did manage to get another run - which proved to be the winning margin - in the fourth inning.

In that inning, Potter and Kirkey each laced singles, then Tamas came through with a run-scoring sacrifice fly.

Lincoln Park tied the game in the third inning, but the Railsplitters had actually caused some concern in the opening frame when Kirkey issued a pair of walks before he settled down and pitched himself out of trouble with a strikeout and back-to-back fly balls to center.

Glenn pitching coach Steve Irwin, who was in the Rocket lineup when Detroit Catholic Central knocked Glenn out of the state running back in 1986, was pleased with the way Kirkey performed against the tough Lincoln Park team.

The victory qualified Glenn for the state semifinals which will be staged Friday at Bailey Park in Battle Creek. Glenn will play Lapeer West and the winner will take on the survivor of the Birmingham Brother Rice and Jenison game.

Glenn and Lapeer take to the field at 1 p.m.

Lapeer is next

Westland John Glenn coach Norm Hoenes is hoping that the second-time around for his baseball team will be sweeter.

Hoenes made his inaugural appearance in a state semifinals in 1986 when the Rockets lost a 1-0 thriller to Birmingham Brother Rice and fell two victories short of the coveted Class A state crown.

On Saturday, Hoenes and his Rockets, along with pitching coach Steve Irwin who was in the 1986 Rocket lineup, will be making their second appearance in the "Big 4".

The Westland team will play at 1 p.m. against a Lapeer West team at Bailey Park in Battle Creek. The winner qualifies to play for the state championship.

Hoenes is the first to admit that he doesn't know "very much about Lapeer."

"All we know about them is their record - they are 35-4," Hoenes said. "And that record will draw anyone's attention and respect."

"Believe me, we have to be ready to play them," he stressed.

After a very shaky start - Glenn was 2-6 early in the 1992 campaign - the Rockets have soared back and won the last 14 of their 15 games and will take a 17-7 won-lost record up against Lapeer.

Equally, if not more important, is that the team has confidence. Hoenes added.

The semifinal winners will return to Bailey Field on Saturday to play for the state championship.

How to get to Battle Creek

It may not be the fastest way but it probably is the best way to get to Bailey Park.

The Glenn-Lapeer West game is scheduled for 1 p.m.

Drivers should travel south on I-275 to the I-94 Expressway. Follow I-94 West to the Battle Creek. The city is about 2 miles from the I-94 expressway. Bailey Park is located on the northeast edge of the city and can be reached from Emmett or Capital (M-66). The park sits west of the Battle Creek River.

Township offers tennis lessons

Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department is offering the second session of tennis lessons for ages 7 through adult beginning Monday.

All classes are conducted at Griffin Park with two lessons per week for a total of six lessons during the three-week course.

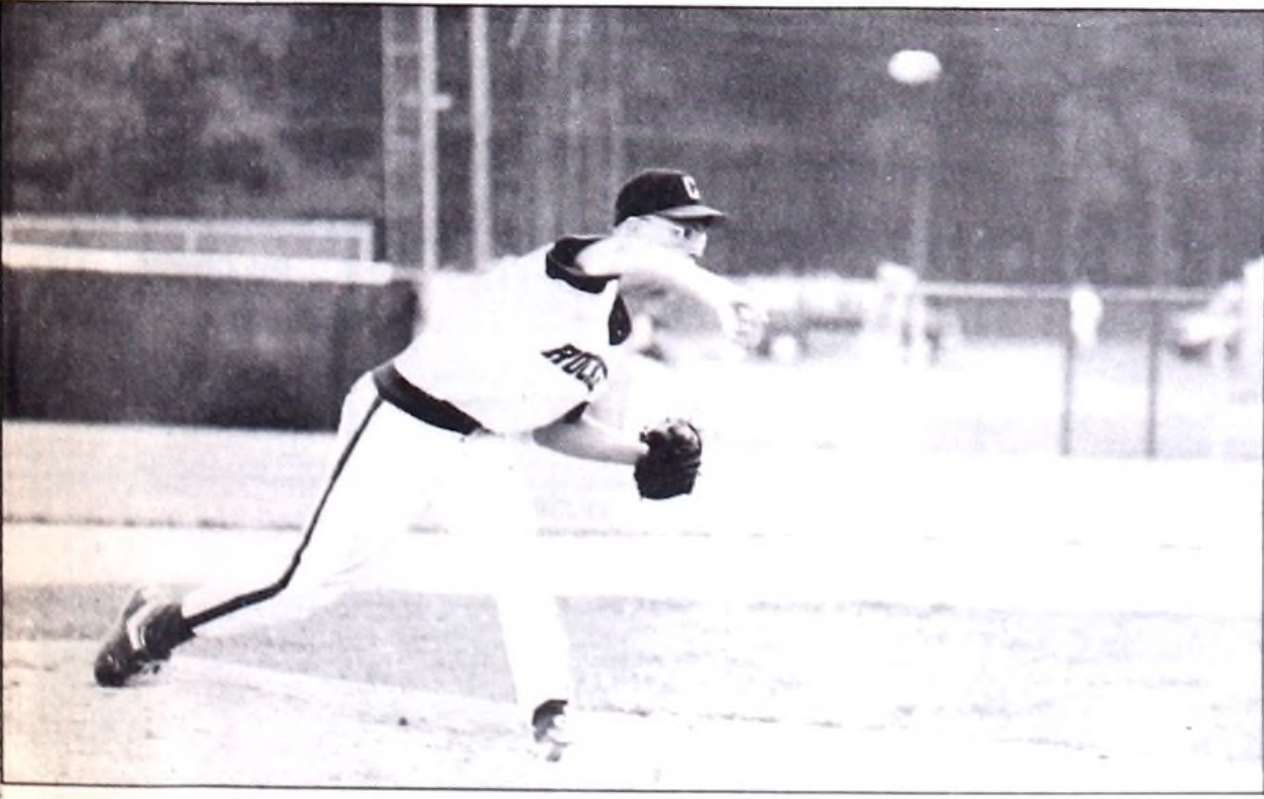

Three divisions, including youths ages 7 through 12, juniors ages 13 through 17 and adults 18 and more will be divided into ability levels from beginners, advanced beginners, intermediate and intermediate excellent players to provide for all skill levels.

Cost for the course is $27 for residents and $32 for non-residents.

Information is available at 397-5110.

It was junior righthander Aaron Scheffer's assignment to silence Redford Catholic Central's bats in the first round of the regional playoffs. Scheffer got the job done with a four-hitter as Glenn ousted the No. 1 team in the state, 5-4. The victory boosted Scheffer's personal record to 6-4 on the season. The Rockets will take a 17-7 mark into semifinals Friday against Lapeer West in Battle Creek. ANP photo by Larry Divizio

Winning form

Glenn senior hurler Chris Kirkey (above) turned in a brilliant pitching performance against Lincoln Park Saturday as he scattered three hits to win his sixth game of the season, 2-1. The victory gave the regional title to the Westland team, their second regional championship in 25 years. Glenn has never won a state baseball championship, something the Rockets hope to rectify this weekend in Battle Creek. ANP photo by Larry Divizio
